and Azaleas

MILLARD HENNY

159-B

BROOKS, OREGON

FALL 1950 SPRING 1951

We invite your personal inspection of our nursery any time you are traveling Pacific Highway 99. Watch for our sign 10 miles north of Salem, 40 miles south of Portland.

Not only will you be able to see the newest in camellias blossoming in our display greenhouse and outdoors, but will be able to select personally from a large stock of true to name, disease free, quality grown plants. Our selection of varieties will please the most discriminating.

Postage paid on West Coast.
Eastern and Southern Customers
may deduct 10% from list price to help offset postage. Plants will then be sent collect.

General Information

September 1950 — September 1951

All items in this catalogue will be shipped post paid to Pacific Coast states and crated free. Unless stipulated otherwise, shipments will be sent by parcel post.

Cash with those orders to be shipped immediately, and 20% of purchase amount will be required to reserve plants for later delivery. Rooted cuttings will be shipped in June and July. Plants under the group headings and azaleas will be sent upon receiving order.

Sizes quoted in camellias refer to height of plant—in azaleas they refer to spread of plant.

Sizes and prices of any specific varieties in larger stock than listed will gladly be quoted upon request.

May we remind you to plant camellias and azaleas only as deep as grown in the nursery. Addition of moisture-saving peat moss, deep watering during summer months, fertilizer after blossoming season, hand cultivation only, are suggestions to those unfamiliar with the growing of these plants.

Plant rooted cuttings in a shady spot using a good peat mixture and water freely during summer. By fall they can be moved to your desirable location.

Williamsii Hybrids

Again we encourage American gardeners to grow the newest in camellias, the Williamsii hybrids, J. C. Williams and Mary Christian.

Besides the fresh beauty of the flowers themselves, there are other characteristics making these plants so desirable. They are rapid growers, branching well. They bud young, abundantly and luxuriantly, even to the point of putting out axillary buds along the central stem. The hardiness of buds in zero temperatures and hardiness of blossoms in regard to bright sun is especially noteworthy. The blossoms have the tidy habit of falling intact and fresh when spent, eliminating the period of brownness so common to the camellias we know.

Camellia J. C. Williams is full pink in bud and pale rose-pink when expanded. The petals, generally 6 to 8, each wavy and notched in the center, open widely to about four inches across and are centered with a tuft of prominent yellow stamens. First camellia in ten years to win a First Class Certificate awarded by Royal Horticultural Society in Britain.

Equally desirable Mary Christian is a deeper, brighter rose-pink. Its buds are beautifully long and pointed. In form the blossoms are similar to J. C. Williams, but remain more cup shaped when open. Petals may be fewer, neither as prominently notched nor as wavy.

New Evergreen Azaleas

Of recent introduction, these Glenn Dale and Gable hybrid evergreen azaleas promise new pleasures for azalea gardeners. Among the varieties are those of exceptionally large flowers and unusual colorings. Best of all is their hardiness. One east coast grower reported, "They are taking 10° below zero and liking it". We know they have withstood the last two severe winters well here, not even showing foliage damage.

Also claiming much customer interest at the nursery are the recently introduced Japanese hybrid evergreen azaleas. Very hardy.
